the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which convenes May 8. Mr Mc-Lean will represent the engineers of the Oregon Short Line and the Sait Lake Route Joseph Brwater, who also will represent Utah at the convention, will leave for Harrisburg next Thursday as representative of the Denver & Rio Grande engineers.

The two delegates from Utah will make an especial effort to bring the next convention of the brotherhood, in 1914, to Sait Lake City. The governor and city commission have been asked to extend the formal invitation and the Commercial city is to take the matter in hand, so that a definite proposition may be made to the convention as an inducement to come to this city for the next meeting. Mr. McLean and Mr. Bywater expect to be gone about six weeks.

Mr. Irwin and company are present ing "La Petite Revue," a vocal odd ity headlining the new bill at the Empress. Ordinarily Mr. Irwin is as urbane and mild mannered a man as one would care to meet. But the experiences of his first three days in Salt Lake have altered his usually passive disposition.

"It all began the second morning that we opened here," said Mr. Irwin yesterday, "when I received several letters regarding my act. The first letter was from a man who signed him-self 'Playgoer.' He congratulated me on the automatons I used in the miniature self Playgoer.' He congratulated me on the automatons I used in the miniature musical production, stating that he did not understand how I obtained heads so lifelike.

'Also there were two more letters from 'Empress Patrons' saying that they greatly admired the ventriloquism of Mr. Schilling, the soloist, who sits out in front of the fireplace and dreams being the characterizations displayed back of him in the big frame by myself and company.

'Now, to begin with, we of course admit that the bodies of the figures is seen in 'La Petite Revue' are padded figures, but believe me, the heads are not padded. They belong to six very capable solo artists, whose salaries, I can assure you, leave no impression in my mind at the close of the week that they are automatons, and the heads they poke through the black background are not worked by wires and strings. However, it is part of our purpose to make the padded bodies and real, live heads look as though they were connected.

'Mr. Schilling is a very clever actor, but he is not a ventriloquist and for the present in the river in preparation for the great pageant.

Mizzi Hajos, dainty, chic and charming, cooed and coaxed and warbled another large audience into a delightful mood at the Salt Lake theater last night. "The Spring Maid" has not depreciated with age; in fact the presenting company is stronger than eyer, the melodies are more mellow, any the chorus more pretty and dainty, of possible. The management closes tonight with a matinee this afternoon.

The members of the Cambrian society attended the Durbar in Kinemacolor at the Colonial last night, attending in a body 250 strong, and all were unanimous in their praise and admiration of the remarkable clearness and beautiful coloring of the pictures. The pictures of the elephant stockade are most amusing, showing the big beasts of the junction for the great pageant.

"La Petite Revue" is the one act at the Empress this week which, more than each of the others, is exciting the admiration and tingling the senses of children and adults alike. The act depicts a dream which is told in song by F. K. Schilling in an excellent baritone voice. As he tells the story, the rest of the company enact the scenes on another part of the stage.

Seats for the engagement of Louise Gunning in "The Balkan Princess" will go on sale at the Colonial box office this morning. Reports of the success of the operetta elsewhere having reached local playgoers, should stimulate an interest in the production that will undoubtedly result in capacity audiences at both performances Monday and Tuesday evenings.
